GRAND AUCTION SALE OF TOWN-LOTS AT FREMONT, NEB SPECIAL

THE NYE-HAWTHORNE ADDITION

Will be offered at public auction, on the grounds, JUNE 8th and 9th. Sale commences June 8th, at 1 p. m. TERMS OF SALE-One third cash, balance one and two years, at 8 per cent interest. Five per cent discount for cash.

This magnificent property lays adjoining the fine residences of Theron Nye, S. B. Colson, Edward Blewett, F. Meyer and J. T. May, and will be offered for sale at auction, and at prices that will warrant a good profit as soon as bought. We ask you to come to Fremont, look over this property look at the railroads centering in Fremont, look at our improvements, and what we are doing in the shape of stock-yards, packing houses, etc. Then we think you will see money in these lots at the prices that they can be bought at. This is inside property and commends itself to all at a glance, as the choice residence portion of the city. We don't ask you to, or expect, that you will pay for this property prices that it will be worth in 30 or 60 days from date of sale. Nor do we offer you property that the city has got to grow to make valuable. But we offer you choice, desirable inside property that is now in demand, and will be built upon and improved at once, at prices that will make you a sharp advance as soon as bought. Fremont is rapidly growing; very few surplus building lots to be had. The advance in real estate is just commencing.

We take great pleasure in placing this magnificent property on the market, and ask all to come and see it, and we know it will suit you, and know that it will make you some money. For further information, free carriages. RICHARDS, KEENE & CO., Fremont, Nebraska. etc., apply to

SUNDAY SCHOOL MASS MEETING

Interesting and Pertinent Addresses -The Swedish Lutheran Church a Temple of Song in Three Tongues.

The Lutherans.

The members of the synod who had been appointed to fill various pulpits in the city were, of course, absent from the Kountze Memorial church in the morning, though many of them returned after their services in other places in time to join in the celebration of the Lord's supper. Early in the morning a devotional meeting was held in the Sunday school room, under the leadership of Rev. E. H. Dornblaser of Wheeling, W. Va., assisted by Rev. W. E. Fischer of Center Hall, Pa., who has charge of the singing in all the devotional meetings. In the church at 10.30 p. m. Rev. L. E. Albert, D. D., of Germantown, Philadelphia, conducted the leturgical service. Rev. J. D. Severingham of Chicago read the scripture lessons and Chicago read the scripture lessons and prayer was offered by Rev L. M. Kuhns, D. D., first pastor of the church. Rev. M. Valentine, D. D., L. L. D., of Gettysburg, Pa., then preached on Luke xxv. 26, "Ought not Christ to have suffered these things and to enter into his glorv." After the sermon the sacrament of the Lord's supper was administered to a large number of communicants.

AFTERNOON. At 2.30 p. m. the children of the Sunday school gathered at the church, whence they proceeded to the large Swedish Lutheran church at Nineteenth and Cass streets, where there was assembled ass streets, where there was assembled a vast audience, consisting of all the Lutheran Sunday school workers in Omaha, together with many visitors from the synod. The mass meeting was presided over by Rev. S. B. Barnitz, of Des Moines, western home mission secretary who has always hear hears. tary, who has always been known as an active and distinguished Sunday school man. Mr. Barnitz conducts a meeting of this kind with great skill and success. The programme consisted of a scripture lesson read by Rev. M. F. Troxell, of Kansas City; prayer by Mr. H. S. Bone, superintendent of Messiah Lutheran

Kansas City; prayer by Mr. H. S. Bone, superintendent of Messiah Lutheran Sunday school of Baltimore, and the singing of selected hymns from "Augsburg Songs," the general synod's Sunday school hymn and tune book.

There were four addresses, the first to the children by Rev. J. Zimmerman, of Syracuse, N. Y., who spoke for ten minutes on "Christ's Loving Care for the Little Ones." Mr. Zimmerman is a rapid speaker, with a vivacious manner. He was followed by Rev. L. L. Uhl, a missionary to India, who mystified the children by beginning his speech in the Telger language, in which, he afterwards said, many boys and girls are singing gongs of praise to Christ, and reading God's word. Mr. Uhl held up two brass leols, one in each hand, which had at one time been regarded by their owners as so sacred that they could not be touched, but were kept that they might be worshipped. At the same time he exhibited a beautiful piece of Hindoo cloth, embroidered with gold thread, and a carved sandalwood box, inlaid with ivory, afterward saying: Remember that these people look and dress well. Although people have skill in beautiful workmanship, they worship idols made of clay. Here there is danger of worshipping land—real estate. A man in India had an idol of gold worth $2,000; here some peopse worship gold and silver. Half of the boys and girls in the world are in India and Japan. If God gives you money, use it to help send the gospel to them, and do not worship idols yourselves. gospel to them, and do not worship idols

The next speaker was Rev. G. W. Enders, of York, Pa., who has a Sunday school as large as the congregation that was present on this occasion. His subject was "The Church the Mother of Us All." Mr. Enders is a lively speaker and well adapted to holding the attention of children. His address abounded in illustrations, not the stale, and oft-repeated trations, not the stale and oft-repeated stories that pass for illustrations, but fresh and original comparisons. He showed by reference to the care which a tender mother gives her children, how the true church cares for the members, Mr. Enders created some merriment

Mr. Enders created some merriment by declining to obey the president's bell which struck when he had been speaking ten minutes, but finished his speech in triumph about three minutes later.

Mr. John W. Rice, a prominent Sunday school superintendent of Baltimore, Md., spoke to Sunday school teachers for their encouragement when they seemed to be working without results. He emphasized his remarks by telling an incident in his own experience in his home Sunday school of a boy who had been a member of his school until he grew up and then left without any apparent improvement, but afterwards returned and voluntarily came afterwards returned and voluntarily came into full membership in the church, grew more and more active in Christian work and is now under instruction in the church institution at Gettysburg in preparation institution at Gettysburg in preparation for the gospel ministry.

Mr. Barnitz then ealled up Rev. M. Fogelstrom, the pastor of the church, that the strangers might see him, and likewise Rev. M. Sheeleigh, D. D., the editor of the Lutherian Sunday School Herald, that all the children might see him. Rev. H. L. Baugher, D. D., who is the editor of the Aupburg Teacher and prepares the Lutherian Sunday School lesson leaves the Lutherian Sunday School and lesson books, was called for. He came forward and said it was hard to refrain from making a speech but would do so, as he expected to preach in that church in the evening. Rev. M. Barnitz made a few eloquent

Rey. M. Barnitz made a few cloquent closing remarks leading at to the singing of Luther's great hymn, "Ein feste Burg."

By suggestion of Pastor Fogelsom, the Swedish people sang in Swedish, the Germans in German, and the English people in English. This novel yet harmonious combination made music which was said inspiring to all the Lutherland. was soul inspiring to all the Lutherlans, who went away happy. The Sunday school mass meeting was a decided sucin the evening.

The business of the publication society will claim the attention of the synod today. This is the one society for which no collections are taken on these occasions. Soon after the present superintendent, Mr. H. S. Boner, took charge of the pub-lication house at 42 North Ninth street, Philadelphia, the business began to in-crease so that the indebtedness was gradcrease so that the indebtedness was grad-ually paid off, and the house began to be a source of profits to the other boards of the church. This year over $600 have been donated by this board to home and foreign missions, church extension and the parent education society. The board of publication will present its report to-day, and a new constitution will be presented for adoption at this time, which may call forth some dis-cussion.

Some radical changes are called for by the new constitution. One article provides for a meeting of the society and the election of one-half of this board in the month of May of each year in which there is no session of the general synod. Other important questions will be considered, among them the publication of a "Cyclopedia of Lutheranism," which is regarded in some quarters as a great desideratum in the Lutheran church of America.

Y. M. C. A. Services.

Rev. Troxell, of Kansas City, one of the Luthern ministers attending the synod in this city led the meeting at the Y. M. C. A. rooms yesterday afternoon. Y. M. C. A. rooms yesterday afternoon. Mr. Geesey, of Hollidaysburg, Penn., was present and made some remarks. After the services a meeting was held upon the site of the proposed association building, corner Sixteenth and Douglas. Dr. Cramer, of Kansas City read the first four verses of the second chapter of Acts. Dr. Springer, of Springfield, Ill., led in prayer, Secretary Joplin made a short talk in the course of which he regretted that Mr. Himebaugh, the president, was prevented from being present by sickness. Mr. Robert Weidensall, vice president of the first association formed in Omaha, was the principal speaker. He gave an outline of the association's progress in this city since its organization. gress in this city since its organization. Special reference was made to Watson B. Smith and the late O. F. Davis.

Rather Die Than Be Poor. John Goodwin, proprietor of a meat market at 714 North Sixteenth street, committed suicide at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, in his sleeping apartment over his place of business. He took strychnine.

The deceased came from Galt, Ontario, in December last. He purchased the market from Fitzgerald. After buying the business he deposited $5,600 in the First National bank. The date of the deposit is January 8. On January 18 he gave a check to W. G. Albright for $2,-500 as half payment on five acres in Albright's Choice. On the same day he gave another check to Albright for $1,500, as payment for one-half interest in ten acres in Albright's Choice, which he de-posited with W. O. Campbell. On Feb-ruary 26 he gave a check to W. O. Camp-bell for $1,000, reported to be in payment for Campbell's interest in the same ten

On March 2 he gave a check to C. E. Campbell for $600 on another real estate transaction. W. O. Campbell and C. E. Campbell are clerks in Albright's office.

About April I Goodwin brought suit in district court against Mr. Albright and the Messrs. Campbell. His petition declares that ne was induced by the declares that after he had signed the deed for such transfer he was unable to secure a deed to the property in Council Bluffs and that after he had signed the deed for such transfer he was unable to secure a deed to the property in Council Bluffs was not as valuable as represented.

For two weeks Goodwin had been despondent. He had been heard to say that the best thing he could do would be to poison himself. He had frequently complained that he had been victimized on a land deal, and threatened, upon one occasion, to kill himself. He told William Craig, a butcher in his market, yesterday morning, that he thought the best thing he could do would be to end his life.

On Saturday Goodwin sent a lad On March 2 he gave a check to C. E.

On Saturday Goodwin sent a lad named Jakey Block to Whitehouse's drug store after twenty-five cents' worth of strychnine. He told the boy to tell the druggist that the poison was wanted by him to give to a farmer for the purpose of poisoning dogs which were killing sheep. The boy procured the poison and took it to the meat market. Goodwin was out. The package was put in the money drawer. When he returned he was told that a package was there for him. He said: "Oh yes; that's strychnine I promised to get for a farmer; don't touch it." No one living has since touched it; yet it is gone.

and up and down the street for him for a few minutes and then went to Goodwin's sleeping room on the upper floor of the same building occupied by the market. As Craig opened the door he saw Good-win on a bed on the floor, and in the last death throe. Goodwin was covered with a quilt. By his side lay a book of fiction. Craig called assistance, and Drs. Vance and Beckett were sum-moned. There was no need for their services for the man on the low bed. He was dead. Coroner Drexel summoned a jury and the facts as presented above were sub-stantially testified to by seven witnesses. The verdict was that the deceased "came

The verdict was that the deceased "came to his death by an overdose of poison, administered by his own hand, with suicidal intent."

Among the effects a letter from the wife of the deceased, written on May 26, was found. It was an intelligent, sweet, womanly letter, with love written between all the lines. It is signed "Your loving wife, Mary Goodwin." She was so happy that he would soon get a house here in Omaha, that she might come to him. He will make the journey now.

That Railroad Strike. AUBURN, Neb., June 4.-To the Editor of the BEE: We saw in your paper of this date, headed "Track Layers Strike," a special from Auburn, Neb., June 3 concerning a strike caused by the brutality of a foreman, according to the statement in your paper, which is not the true statement of things. Inclosed please find clipping from to-day's Auburn Daily Post, fully explaining matters. Please make the correction and oblige yours truly, GEO. F. H. HICKS. P.

Auburn Evening Post; Paymaster George F. H. Hicks, in company with Conductor Frank A. Kenyon, Engineer J. H. Fisher and Boss Tracklayer George Williams, were callers at this office this Williams, were callers at this office this morning during our absence, but whom we hunted up later in company with Mr. Hicks, who substantiated the report given us by the last named gentleman.

It was not denied by these gentlemen that their cook was a botch, but they had made every effort to secure another without success. The men had been growling about this, and had finally made up their minds to strike, and used this cause and the additional one of putting up a and the additional one of putting up a job by taking advantage of an error in a time cheque. The man "Scotty" received his time cheque for June, and the bookkeeper through mistake made it for July instead of June. He entered complaint of this error to Contractor Harris and Mr. Williams, and they told him to go to Mr. Hicks and get it corrected. He replied, as per agreement with those who wanted to strike, with usualing language in the hearing. ment with those who wanted to strike, with insulting language in the hearing of Mr. William's wife. This gentleman stood it just as long as he consistently could when he ended the matter by knocking the fellow down. This fanned the smouldering fuse that at once exploded the mine, and the men in a body, refused to work under so expells hose. refused to work under so cruel a boss. Yesterday afternoon they were given their choice of their time cheques and departure or resume work this morning. As stated, about sixty chose the former while twenty-live went to work this morning, while quite a few are yet un-decided and are still lingering in the decided and are still lingering in the vicinity.

The complaining witness who was evidently used as a tool by those wanting an excuse to quit, left town with the crowd, thus ending the matter of difficulty forced upon Mr. Williams, who informs us that seventy-five men will be on hand Monday morning when the track laying will be pushed as rapidly as possible.
